What it takes to get elected to the House of Keys varies widely according of course to voter interest but also whether third place will do. You may only need to impress less than 1 in 5 of your potential voters!