P A G Public Meeting

"Criminal Justice & Your Freedom"

A panel discussion

7.30 p.m. Monday 29th November 2010

Manx Legion Club, Market Hill, Douglas

Admission free - All welcome

We all value our freedom, especially here in the Isle of Man, so when Government brings in legislation that threatens some of those freedoms it is inevitable that there will be much public concern. That is what has happened with the Criminal Justice \(Miscellaneous Provisions\) Bill 2010

Previous article on this Bill □ □ □ □ □ PAG submission to consultation

The weighty document contains 78 Clauses many of which are controversial by giving Police greater powers and allowing the Department of Home Affairs to amend legislation 'By Order'. Such a measure allows D H A to by-pass the tried and tested scrutiny process primary legislation receives.

Here are some of the more worrying proposals:

- allowing a constable to 'Arrest without warrant'
- on the spot penalties
- unlimited search warrants
- child dispersal orders

Do come and find out more how these could impact on our Island life. It's not too late to modify the Bill as it is now to be considered by a Select Committee of the House of Keys and your opinion is valuable - it's a live political issue.
