

Viewing a downloaded document

Wherever possible we like to publish documents in Adobe Acrobat (.PDF) format. The software required to view these documents is usually supplied already on most new PCs but if you don't already have it you may download the latest version from here .

As we have many guest authors (and we always looking for more..), you may find the odd document in Microsoft Office format - perhaps Microsoft Word, Excel or Powerpoint (for presentations). If so and you are not a Microsoft Office user you can download free viewers for each here:
